

Restaurant of the week

Today we are showcasing The Cricketers of Redbourn in St Albans to Telegraph Subscriber Privilege Card holders

DINING CLUB

From the outside, The Cricketers of Redbourn appears to be a traditional pub, however it is far more than this on the inside.

Steeped in character and surrounded by the lovely Hertfordshire countryside, The Cricketers of Redbourn features a classy restaurant with a chic contemporary décor. Their team of chef's prepare everything on site using the finest and freshest produce which is locally sourced where possible. They offer a wide range of traditional British and Continental food, all beautifully presented. You will be assured of a warm welcome from the team together with great service and most importantly excellent food and a great wine and drinks selection. This is well worth a visit whatever the occasion.
